About The Artist Tracy Arrington

Tracy Arrington has called the Orlando, FL area home for close to 35 years but prior to that, she lived in many places including Brussels, Belgium. She has traveled extensively from Europe to South Africa to Russia. Her favorite memories are of the real experiences she had far away from the major cities. Eating lunch at a working farm in Denmark, staying at a small chateau in the French countryside, and seeing big cats in the wilds of South Africa just feet from her.

Tracy's signature style comes from her love of sophisticated, elegant design and her dedication to creating jewelry that's comfortable and easy to wear every day.

Her style is clean and fresh, and focuses on a contemporary version of classic. It's not trendy but is always current, perfect for the way we live today. She loves the contrast between the rich warm gold and oxidized steel grey found in most of her pieces. Her designs have a presence in their simplicity and delicate nature and are very wearable. Tracy's jewelry appeals to a wide range of women who prefer artisan, hand-crafted jewelry to mass produced pieces. They appreciate high-quality materials and generally choose to invest in a piece that will last, from both a craftsmanship and design perspective. Her customers express themselves through the jewelry they choose to wear, and like an updated, timeless look Tracy refers to as "The New Look of Classic."

Tracy designs her lines to bridge the gap between fashion jewelry and fine jewelry typically made with karat gold. It has the aesthetics and feel of a high-end designer line made with 14K or 18K gold, but with prices that are more affordable in today's economy. Her jewelry is crafted using sterling silver, oxidized sterling silver and 14K gold fill or vermeil. Many of her designs include gorgeous gemstones. All pieces are made by hand one piece at a time by a small, highly skilled team who work from Tracy's studio in Central Florida. Olivia, the studio cat, often joins them for her afternoon nap.
