Collections: Tracy Arrington Studios currently offers ten collections, each with a personality and style of its own:

- The Natasha Collection: "Contemporary diamond reflections" Our newest collection (Holiday 2015) was created with jewelry stores and higher-end retailers in mind. Natasha is from the Latin word for birthday or born near Christmas. This year's exquisite Holiday Collection is designed with sparkling pavé set diamonds, rare miniature keshi pearls, pyrite, organic black diamonds, baroque pearls, and oxidized sterling silver in imaginative necklaces, earrings and bracelets with a contemporary classic look. These designs are elegant, sophisticated and uniquely individual, like the woman who wears them. Actual gemstones are all natural and will vary in shape and size as all natural gemstones do.
- The Sophie Collection: "Bling It On" Tracy designed this collection for the woman who loves to feel glamorous and adorn herself in beautiful jewelry. This collection offers dozens of alluring styles with amazing sparkle. Each piece is made using oxidized sterling silver, 14K gold fill or vermeil and includes one or more of the following: organic raw diamonds, sparkling sillimanite, white and gray bezel-set druzy, freshwater cultured pearls, faceted pyrite, moonstone, labradorite and micro-faceted white chalcedony. Designs in this collection are created to make a statement that sparkles and shines without being 'overly ornate.' Actual gemstones are all natural and will vary in shape and size as all natural gemstones do.
- The Paige Collection: "Confident, Contemporary, Bold" The Paige Collection is a bit of a departure from our delicate style. These stunning designs are larger in scale and length and are filled with gleaming gemstones and gold. Glorious geodes with 24K gold accents, lustrous grey pearls, rough labradorite, silverite, and mother-of-pearl form the basis for this collection. Many necklaces are long and layer beautifully with slightly shorter designs. Actual gemstones are all natural and will vary in shape and size as all natural gemstones do. The geodes and large druzy come in many shapes and sizes, each one beautiful but not identical.
- The Alexis Collection: "So Many Facets" This collection of necklaces, earrings and bracelets are primarily created using the gemstone pyrite in a beautifully faceted cut that adds sparkle and glam. Add these designs to the everyday pieces in Olivia to take your little black dress from day to evening.

- The Madison Collection: “Not Your Grandmother’s Pearls” The Madison Collection is all about the classic pearl, updated for today’s contemporary woman. Necklaces, bracelets and earrings are available in larger scale and more subtle designs, incorporating 14K gold fill and oxidized sterling silver. The necklaces are a very striking play on the traditional pearl necklace. Items in this collection are extremely wearable, and layer beautifully.
- The Emma Collection: “The Brilliant One” Showcasing the brilliant blue gray of the gemstone labradorite, the Emma Collection utilizes this versatile stone as a ‘new neutral.’ Necklaces, earrings and bracelets are heavily focused on the look of gold, giving a high contrast to the stones and delivering a rich, luxurious look. Each piece in this collection makes a statement while still retaining Tracy’s signature look.
- The Sienna Collection: “Classic with an Urban Edge” This collection is designed to add an urban feel to the classic. These jewelry pieces typically have a harder edge (hence urban) than some of the other pieces designed by Tracy, but the delicate chains and gold offset that harder edge. This is the first collection that goes beyond the scope of the circle. Design elements include the look of ornamental ironwork and a concrete-like texture reminiscent of city sidewalks. The new shapes and textures have traditional elements too, including spirals, circles and gold, which provide a rich contrast with the darkened silver. The Sienna Collection adds a metropolitan flair to a woman’s classic jewelry wardrobe.
- The Kaitlyn Collection: “She’s Connected” This collection is all about connections and movement. Many of the pieces dangle and/or have charm-like hand-crafted elements that add movement to the pieces, allowing the components to flow and swing freely. Designed predominately with oxidized sterling silver and 14K gold fill, the contrasting finishes give visual excitement while showing off the connections.
- The Petite Collection: “One Size Smaller” This collection was specifically designed for the woman who prefers smaller scale jewelry and likes to make a subtle statement. “With so many large-scale designs in the market, I wanted to create a beautiful line of delicate designs that were subtle, understated, and perfect for wearing every day.” Tracy took 36 of her top-selling designs and made them “One Size Smaller.” Items in this collection are mostly oxidized sterling silver and 14K gold fill and can be worn individually or layered.
- The Olivia Collection: “Running in Circles” The concept for Tracy’s entire body of work began with this collection. “It’s all about interconnecting circles and a simple, clean, classic look.” The main emphasis is on layering and combining pieces to create a variety of looks. Items in this line are made with oxidized sterling silver and 14K gold fill and many of the chains exude a soft, lacey feel creating a subtle feminine look.
